- 2) 6000 Italian and international monographs and dictionaries = these are mainly textbooks and classics of psychology (opera omnia of S. Freud, A. Freud, Winnicott, Klein, Jung , ...).
- 3) 322 (but being updated) Italian and international print magazines of which 77 are current.

Also kept at the Library is the TEXT's HALL: a collection of tests, mostly published by Giunti O.S., as a valuable tool for teaching and research and for introduction to the career.

The decision to invest the economic resources, which each year the Department makes available to the library, in the purchase of databases is based on the desire to build a library that is projected towards the future and that supports scientific research.

In this sense, infact, very active is the Document Delivery Service, providing documents : articles or parts of books within 15% (Copyright Law), both incoming (requests received from other libraries), and outgoing (requests made to other libraries), for a total that annually touches about 2000 exchanges. The library, in this regard, has participated since 2005 in the NILDE (Network Inter-Library Document Exchange) consortium, which allows, precisely, greater cooperation between Italian and foreign libraries.

Finally, the librarians are currently working on a project to develop the library's website, adapting it to the principles of the Minerva Project and the W3C consortium for accessibility.

The library remains open all day:

- Monday - Wednesday - Friday: 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
- Tuesday - Thursday: 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

for a total of 39.30 hours weekly.
